

Careers in the Heritage Sector

What is 'heritage'?

Heritage is the history, traditions, practices of a country, area or society that exist from the past and continue to be important. This includes:

- Buildings
- Artwork
- Music
- Traditions
- Events
- Objects
- Natural landscape

HERITAGE LINCOLNSHIRE

Organisations in the Heritage Sector

Historic England

National Trust

Heritage
Network

HERITAGE
LINCOLNSHIRE

ENGLISH HERITAGE

TASK: Research each of these organisations.
What do they do and in which locations do they operate?

What jobs are there in heritage?

- Conservation officer
- Heritage at Risk officer
- Sites Manager
- Learning Manager
- Outreach community officer
- Archaeologist
- Museum Collections Officer
- Visitor Experience Officer
- Exhibition Designer
- Archivist
- Conservator
- Project Manager

Visit the National Careers Service website to find out more about these job roles

<https://nationalcareers.service.gov.uk/explore-careers>

Quotes about working in the heritage sector

"One of the most exciting things about being a heritage professional is playing a small part in important and sometimes ancient stories. We link the past to the future and I feel that's a great privilege"

"You can learn a great deal and make a real difference to the built and cultural heritage of the country and that is an addictive prospect for me"

"Heritage gives you the opportunity to play a huge role in preserving the history of your local area"